The Key West Harry S. Truman Foundation and the Harry S Truman Library will host the 14th annual Truman Legacy Symposium on March 18 and 19, 2016.

Friday, March 18th there will be a reception at the historic Harry S. Truman Little White House. Come and tour the home and enjoy complimentary refreshments on the north lawn. The Director of the Little White House, Robert Wolz, and Clifton Truman Daniel, eldest grandson of President Truman will open the conference. Ambassador Kathleen Stephens will give the opening address.

Saturday, March 19th at the Marriott Key West Beachside Hotel a conference of prominent scholars will explore the ongoing legacy of the Korean War.

See conference schedule and registration form available inside this brochure as well as online at www.trumansymposium.com. Current members of the Key West Harry S. Truman Foundation or the Truman Library Institute receive a 20% discount off symposium registration.

Please join us by becoming a member of the Key West Harry S. Truman Foundation and/or the Truman Library Institute so we can share President Truman's legacy by introducing the community to a better understanding of our democracy and the American presidency. Your tax deductible membership helps to ensure these programs for future generations.
