LOG OF PRESIDENT TRUMAN'S SEVENTH VACATION TRIP TO KEY WEST, FLORIDA

Monday, 28 November

The President, accompanied by Mrs. Truman and Miss Margaret Truman, left Blair House at 8:01 A.M., and motored to the Washington National Airport (Military Air Transport terminal), where he met the other members of the group that were to accompany him to Key West, Florida, for a vacation. All hands promptly boarded the aircraft INDEPENDENCE (U.S. Air Force DC-6), and at 8:30 A.M. the INDEPENDENCE was airborne for Key West. Aboard were: The President, Mrs. Truman, Miss Truman, Mr. John R. Steelman, Mr. William D. Hassett, Mr. Matthew J. Connelly, Mr. Charles G. Ross, Mr. Clark M. Clifford, Mr. Stanley Woodward, Major General Harry H. Vaughan, USA (Reserve), Rear Admiral Robert I. Dennison, USN, Colonel Cornelius J. Mara, USAF, members of the President's party; and Commander Ashton Emerson, Medical Corps, USN, Mr. Jack Romagna, Mr. James J. Rowley, Mr. Carl Dixon, Mr. Henry J. Nicholson, and Chief Steward Arthur S. Prettyman. The weather at Washington was clear and cold (31 degrees) at time of take-off for Key West.

The Press plane (a National Airlines DC-6) with members of the Press, Secret Service, and the White House staff embarked, departed Washington at 8:09 A.M. for Key West. Remembering the embarrassment experienced last March, the newspapermen and photographers decided to take no chance of the President again beating them to Key West.

The Press plane landed at the U.S. Naval Air Station, Boca Chica, Florida, at 11:47 A.M. The passengers disembarked and remained at the Naval Air Station to await the arrival of the President and his party.

The INDEPENDENCE put down at Boca Chica at 12:20 P.M. Simultaneously the President's personal flag was hoisted at the Naval Air Station. The President was the first to leave the aircraft, followed by Mrs. Truman, Miss Truman and the other members of his party.

Both the INDEPENDENCE and the Press plane reported that the 1050 mile flight from Washington to Key West had been smooth and uneventful.

On hand at Boca Chica to greet the President were:

Captain Cecil C. Adell, USN, Commander Naval Base, Key West
Honorable George A. Smathers, Member U. S. House of Representatives, (Fourth District of Florida)

Honorable Louis M. J. Eisner, Mayor of Key West
Honorable Ralph D. Spalding, City Manager, Key West
Mr. Louis Carbonell, City Commissioner, Key West
Captain O. A. Smith, Medical Corps, USN, Medical Officer in Command, U.S. Naval Hospital, Key West
Captain F. L. Busey, USN, Commanding Officer, U.S. Naval Air Station, Key West
Captain W. R. Caruthers, USN, Commanding Officer, Fleet Sonar School
Captain J. R. Lee, USN, Commanding Officer, Anti-submarine Development Squadron One
Captain C. E. Weakley, USN, Commanding Officer, Surface Anti-Submarine Development
Detachment
Captain E. C. Stephan, USN, Commander Submarine Squadron Four
Captain W. T. Nelson, USN, Commanding Officer, USS HOWARD W. GILMORE
Captain N. Lucker, Jr., USN, Commanding Officer, Fleet Underway Training Unit
Captain W. E. Ellis, USN, Commanding Officer, Fleet All Weather Training Unit, Atlantic Fleet
Captain Reid Clifton, Florida State Highway Patrol
Messrs. John E. Campion, Rudolph M. McDavid, and Louis F. Padgett of the United States
Secret Service
Mr. William S. Douglas, ONI Agent, Miami, Florida

After exchange of greetings, the President spoke briefly with members of the press and posed for the photographers.

The President and members of his party then, at 12:27 P.M., left Boca Chica by motor for the U. S. Naval Station, Key West. The President, Mrs. Truman, Miss Truman rode together in a Lincoln convertible, with the top lowered. The motorcade, led by Captain Clifton, Sergeant Hancock and Patrolmen Walker, Stevens and Johnson of the Florida State Highway Patrol, followed the usual route through Key West – it entered the city via Truman Avenue; turned right onto Duval Street; left onto Caroline Street; thence to the Naval Station. Several thousand people were gathered along the route to greet the President and his family. He acknowledged the greetings of the enthusiastic ones by waving his hat as he passed them by. A number of large banners bearing the message “Welcome back, Harry,” were noted.

The Presidential motorcade reached the Caroline Street gate to the Naval Station at 12:46 P.M. On hand there to meet the President were Commander J. A. Fitzgerald, USN, Executive Officer, and an assembly of officers from the Naval Station. The President’s car paused momentarily while honors were rendered by side boys and the Marine Guard, and a 21-gun salute commenced by the Naval Station saluting battery. The President’s flag was simultaneously hoisted at the administration building on the Naval Station. The President did not inspect the guard.

On Completion of honors, the motorcade continued on to the Little White House (Quarters “A-B”) at the Naval Station. The route along the way from the Caroline Street gate to the quarters was lined on both sides with enlisted men smartly clad in white uniforms.

At the Little White House, the President, Mrs. Truman, and Miss Truman were greeted by Commander Donald J. MacDonald, USN, Commanding Officer of the USS WILLIAMSBURG. All hands were then shown to their respective quarters where they changed to lighter clothing. The weather, although cool to Key Westers (71 degrees), was pleasingly mild to the visitors from Washington.

Lunch was served at 1:30 P.M. After lunch, the President retired to his quarters where he rested until 4 P.M. The ladies spent the afternoon out in the south garden reading and enjoying the warm sun.

Mr. Ross left the Little White House at 3:55 P.M. and motored to the press room (Bldg. 128) where he met with the members of the Press. With a few exceptions, Mr. Ross saw the members of the press daily at 10 A.M. and 4 P.M. throughout the period of the visit at Key West.

Dinner was served at 7:15 P.M. Commander MacDonald and Lieutenant Colonel Francis. W. Williams, USAF, pilot of the INDEPENDENCE, were guests.

Immediately following dinner, the President retired to his quarters.

Movies were shown in the living room following dinner. The feature was "She Wore a Yellow Ribbon." Commander MacDonald, Lieutenant Colonel Williams and all members of the party, except the President, attended.

The ladies retired to their quarters at 10:15 P.M.

The President occupied his usual quarters (Suite #4); the ladies, #3; Mr. Woodward and Mr. Connelly, #2; Mr. Clifford and Mr. Ross, #1; Mr. Steelman and Mr. Hassett, #5; (downstairs). Admiral Dennison, General Vaughan and Colonel Mara were quartered in the WILLIAMSBURG, which had arrived Key West on 22 November and was moored at the north quay wall about 100 yards distant from the Little White House.

The President's mess was operated at the Little White House. As the dining room will accommodate a maximum of 14, the party schedule was so arranged that no more than 14 guests would be present at any one time.

The Little White House and Quarters "L" were staffed by WILLIAMSBURG personnel under the supervision of Lieutenant Hoye D. Moore, Supply Officer of the WILLIAMSBURG.

The newspaper and radio correspondents and members of the White House staff were quartered at Bldg. 128 (Naval Station BOQ); members of the Secret Service at Bldg. #217 (Sonar School BOQ). The facilities of the Sonar School Officers Mess and the Naval Station Officers Mess at Fort Taylor were made available for their subsistence.

Mr. John E. Campion, of the White House Secret Service Detail, arrived in Key West on 22 November for the purpose of completing arrangements for the President's visit. He was assisted by Mr. Rudolph M. McDavid (of the Miami office of U.S. Secret Service), Mr. Louis J. Padgett (of the Atlanta Office of the U.S. Secret Service) and Mr. William S. Douglas (Naval Intelligence agent at Miami).

Mr. Russell A. McMullin and Major George J. McNally of the White House Communications Staff arrived in Key West on 22 November to prepare the special telephone and telegraph facilities used by the President's party. Major McNally was called to Brooklyn, New York, on emergency leave on 27 November and did not return to Key West.

An advance party of Commander H. H. Holton (Office of Public Relations, Department of the Navy), Chief Yeoman B. L. Winkler (Naval Aide's Staff), Chief Photographer's Mate A. E. Ryan (Naval Photographic Center, Anacostia), and Master Sergeant H. E. Wolff and Sergeants First Class B. Putterman and E. R. Schrader (White House Communications Staff) arrived in Key West on 25 November. They traveled from Washington via naval aircraft (R-4-D). This aircraft (Lieutenant T. J. Beare, pilot) remained at Key West under the operational control of the Naval Aide and performed special missions for the President and members of his party.

Radio communications for the party were handled by the regular facilities (duplex radio teletype) of the WILLIAMSBURG. Two supervised telephone circuits between Key West and Washington were employed for the exclusive use of the Presidential party. All telephone calls for the President or members of his party were channeled through the Little White House switchboard, which was set up in Building #97 and manned by members of the White House communications staff.

Air mail service between the White House and Key West was maintained twice weekly. Naval aircraft and naval officer couriers were employed in this service.

One Lincoln convertible, five Lincoln sedans and four Ford sedans were sent to Key West by Mr. Cecil Holland, President of the All Miami Motor Co. of Miami, and placed at the disposal of the Secret Service during the visit. The convertible was used for the President. Four of the Lincoln sedans were used to provide transportation for members of the President's party. Enlisted drivers were furnished by the Commander Naval Base. Arrangements were made so that members of the press could call in taxicabs, when they required transportation. An omnibus was provided by the officers club to transport them to Fort Taylor for meals.

In addition to the Secret Service detail, a continuous guard was maintained around the Little White House by Marine Corps personnel attached to the Naval Base. A special pass authenticated by both the Secret Service and the Naval Base security officer had to be presented in order to be passed into or out of the grounds

A press office and a branch telegraph office were established in Building #128 for the convenience of the newspaper and radio correspondents. Mr. Carroll S. Linkins of the Washington Office of the Western Union Company supervised the operation of the telegraph office.

Through the courtesy of the National Airlines, New York and Washington newspapers were delivered daily at the Little White House.

Tuesday, 29 November

The President came downstairs at 7:35 A.M. He spent a short while on the south porch reading the morning newspapers and left the Little White House at 7:40 A.M. for a walk around the Naval Station. He was accompanied by two Secret Service agents. The President returned to the Little White House at 7:55 A.M. and sat down to breakfast at 8:10 A.M., in company with Mr. Steelman, Mr. Hassett, Mr. Ross and General Vaughan.

At 9:50 A.M. the President, Mr. Hassett, Colonel Mara, Admiral Dennison, Mr. Clifford, Mr. Woodward and Captain Adell left the Little White House and walked to Truman Beach, located at the southwest corner of the Naval Station and formerly known as the Enlisted Men's Beach. The President arrived at Truman Beach at 10:05 A.M. Miss Truman and General Vaughan motored down and joined him there later. Mr. Steelman also joined later. Mrs. Truman remained at the Little White House, where she spent the forenoon reading in the south garden.

At the beach the members of the party changed to bathing suits. They found the water a bit cool and only the President, Mr. Steelman and Mr. Hassett ventured in. Most of them preferred just to loaf in the warm sun. Miss Truman, Mr. Woodward, Mr. Clifford, and Colonel Mara teamed up against General Vaughan, Admiral Dennison, Commander Warden and Mr. Behn in a spirited round of volleyball which was won by Miss Truman's team, two games to one. Afterwards, Mr. Clifford, Mr. Steelman, General Vaughan and Admiral Dennison tried their hand at tossing horseshoes.

Enroute to the beach the President stopped at the Naval Station ship's service store where he left his wrist watch to be repaired. As the result of a news item of this incident, the President subsequently received three watches as gifts.

The party left the beach at 11:55 A.M. and motored back to the Little White House.

Lunch was served at 1 P.M. Immediately following lunch, the President retired to his quarters where he rested until 3:40 P.M. Mrs. Truman and Miss Truman spent the afternoon in the south garden reading and enjoying the sun.

Dinner was served at 7 P.M. After dinner, the entire group retired to the living room where they listened to the radio broadcast "Carnegie Hall" on which Miss Helen Traubel appeared as guest artist. Following this, the motion picture "Top of the Morning" was shown. The President, Mrs. Truman, Miss Truman and all members of the party attended.

The ladies retired to their quarters at 11:00 P.M. The President remained downstairs, visiting with members of his party, until 11:55 P.M., at which time he retired.

The routine for the succeeding days of the stay at Key West was very much the same as for today. Reveille and breakfast were at the convenience of the individual. Usually, lunch was served at 1 P.M., dinner at 7 P.M. Informality was the rule during meals and protocol was laid aside. About 10 A.M. each morning all hands assembled at the Little White House and left from there in a group for the beach, where they spent the forenoon. The afternoons, generally, were free for rest. However, considerable staff work was accomplished on the messages delivered to Congress the first week of January 1950. The President also worked for an hour or longer most evenings after he retired to his quarters, and cleared up a backlog of official papers which he took south with him. The ladies found the gardens particularly pleasant and spent much of their afternoons there.

Wednesday, 30 November

The President came downstairs at 7:25 A.M. He left the Little White House at 7:30 A.M. for a thirty-minute walk about the Naval Station, during which he made an informal inspection of the Naval Station Memorial Chapel which had been completed and dedicated since his last visit. As usual, he was accompanied by two Secret Service agents.

At 8:10 A.M., Mr. Steelman, Admiral Dennison, Captain Adell and Commander MacDonald left the Little White House and motored to the Key West Golf Club, where they spent the forenoon playing golf.

The President sat down to breakfast at 8:15 A.M., where he was joined by Mr. Hassett and Mr. Woodward.

At 9:50 A.M. the President, General Vaughan, Mr. Woodward, Miss Truman and Colonel Mara left the Little White House and walked to the beach. Mrs. Truman, Mr. Hassett, Mr. Ross, Mr. Clifford joined them there later. The President, Miss Truman, Mr. Clifford and Mr. Woodward went swimming. Afterwards, a team composed of Miss Truman, Mr. Clifford, Lieutenant Moore, General Vaughan, Colonel Mara and Mr. Woodward defeated a team comprised of Commander Warden, Lieutenant Commander Rigdon, Mr. Nicholson, Mr. McCann, Mr. Behn and Mr. Scouten two out of three games at volleyball. The play was smoother and faster than on Tuesday, but was still a bit rough. Miss Truman uncomplainingly took her falls along with the other players.

The party left the beach by auto at 12:30 P.M. and motored back to the Little White House.

Lunch was served at 1 P.M.

After lunch, the President retired to his quarters where he rested until 3:45 P.M.

The President went to his desk in the living room at 3:45 P.M. and worked on official mail until 4:10 P.M. At this time, in company with Mr. Steelman and Mr. Hassett, he left the Little White House and walked to the Naval Station athletic field where he had planned to watch a softball game between teams from the WILLIAMSBURG and the Secret Service. Unfortunately the game had already been completed and all hands had departed, so the President was deprived of that pleasure. He then returned to the Little White House.

Miss Truman, accompanied by Lieutenant Moore, Mr. Clifford and Mr. Woodward, left the Little White House by motor at 3:35 P.M. for the Casa Marina Hotel in Key West, where they watched Mr. Clifford and Mr. Woodward play tennis with Mr. Mercer Beaseley (the tennis instructor at the hotel) and Miss Rhoda Hopkins. Miss Truman and Lieutenant Moore returned to the Little White House at 5:30 P.M.

At 6:20 P.M. Lieutenant (jg) Robert S. Jones, USN (courier) arrived from Washington with White House mail.

Dinner was served at 7 P.M.

The motion picture "Fighting Kentuckian" was shown at the Little White House this evening. All members of the party except the President, Mr. Steelman, Mr. Hassett and Mr. Ross attended. The President spent this time working on official mail that had arrived this afternoon. He was assisted by Mr. Hassett and Mr. Ross.

The ladies retired to their quarters at 10:00 P.M. The President visited with members of his party until 12:30 A.M., at which time he retired.

Thursday, 1 December

The President came downstairs at 7:25 A.M. Accompanied by two Secret Service agents, he left the Little White House at 7:35 A.M. for a walk about the Naval Station. It had rained during the night but was now clear and cool (temperature 65 degrees). The President returned from his walk at 7:55 A.M. and sat down to breakfast at 8:10 A.M., where he was joined by Mr. Steelman.

At 9:55 A.M. the President, accompanied by Miss Truman, Mr. Steelman, Mr. Woodward, General Vaughan, Admiral Dennison and Colonel Mara, left the Little White House and walked to the beach. Mr. Hassett and Mr. Ross came down later and joined the party. Mrs. Truman remained behind at the Little White House. Only the President and Miss Truman went swimming. Later, Miss Truman's volleyball quintet (Miss Truman, General Vaughan, Mr. Woodward, Lieutenant Moore, Mr. McCann) defeated the team composed of Colonel Mara, Commander Warden, Mr. Behn, Mr. Mroz and Mr. Dixon, two games to one.

Lieutenant Robert S. Jones (courier) departed for Washington at 10:00 A.M. with White House mail. Commander Emerson, who had been on temporary duty with the Naval Aide, left for Washington via the same aircraft as Lieutenant Jones, to resume his regular duties at the Naval Hospital, Bethesda, Maryland.

While the President was at the beach, Mrs. Adell (wife of Captain Adell), Mrs. Smith (wife of Captain O. A. Smith), and Mrs. Nelson (wife of Captain W. T. Nelson) called at the Little White House and replenished the beautiful floral decorations in the quarters. Mrs. Truman greeted the ladies and thanked them for the flowers and for their thoughtfulness in giving so much of their time and effort to this detail. Mrs. Adell, assisted by Mrs. Smith, Mrs. Nelson, Mrs. Harris, (wife of Commander M. H. Harris) or Mrs. Husband (wife of Commander A. C. Husband) came in at frequent intervals while we were at Key West and saw to it that the house was always plentifully furnished with flowers.

The President and Miss Truman left the beach at 11:50 A.M. and motored back to the Little White House.

At 12:45 P.M. all hands donned their most colorful sports shirts and moved out to the south garden, where they posed for a group picture by the party photographer. Mr. Clifford had not returned from a tennis engagement and did not appear with the group.

Lunch was served at 1 P.M. After lunch the President retired to his quarters where he rested until 3:50 P.M. The ladies spent the afternoon on the sunporch.

Dinner was served at 7 P.M. There were no guests. Following dinner the motion picture "Miss Grant Takes Richmond" was shown at the Little White House. The President did not attend. He visited with members of his party until 12:20 A.M., when he retired. The ladies retired to their quarters at 10:30 P.M.

Friday, 2 December

The President came downstairs at 7:25 A.M. He left the Little White House at 7:35 A.M. for a walk around the Naval Station, and returned at 8 A.M.

At 8 A.M. Mr. Steelman left the Little White House for Boca Chica. At Boca Chica, he explained for Washington, where he addressed the National Men of Science and Industry at their annual dinner held at the Hotel Statler that evening. He traveled to Miami via naval aircraft (R-4-D), Lieutenant Beare) and thence to Washington via Eastern Airlines.

The President and Mr. Hassett sat down to breakfast at 8:10 A.M.

At 10:30 A.M. the President, Miss Truman, Mr. Hassett, General Vaughan, Colonel Mara and Captain Adell left the Little White House and walked to Truman Beach. Mr. Clifford, Mr. Ross, and Mr. Woodward came down later and joined the party. The President and Mr. Woodward were the only members of the group to go swimming. At volleyball, the team comprised of Miss Truman, Lieutenant Moore, Mr. Clifford, General Vaughan and Mr. Woodward defeated the team made up of Colonel Mara, Mr. Behn, Mr. Rowley, Mr. Scouten and Mr. Mroz, two games to one. Afterwards, Mr. Woodward and Lieutenant Moore went sailing in the dinghy.

The party left the beach at 12:30 P.M. and motored back to the Little White House.

Captain and Mrs. Adell and Commander H. D. Warden, Medical Officer of the WILLIAMSBURG, were guests at lunch today. Following lunch, a group consisting of the President, Mrs. Truman, Miss Truman, Mr. Connelly, Mr. Ross, Mr. Woodward, General Vaughan and Colonel Mara embarked in the BIG WHEEL (65-foot motor boat – piloted by Chief Boatswain's Mate A. A. Fuller) and departed for the fishing grounds off Key West. Commander MacDonald, Commander Warden, Mr. Behn, Mr. Roberts, Mr. McDavid and Lieutenant Moore also went along. Admiral Dennison remained behind as he was suffering from a cold. Members of the Secret Service were embarked in the motor boat KINGFISH which accompanied the BIG WHEEL.

Lieutenant Howard I. Kullman, USN (courier) arrived from Washington at 4:40 P.M. with official White House mail.

Mr. Carter T. Barron, of Washington, D. C., called at the Little White House at 5 P.M. Mr. Barron brought with him prints of the motion pictures "Battleground" and "Adam's Rib" which he left at the disposal of the President's party. Mr. Barron was berthed in the WILLIAMSBURG during his stay at Key West.

The fishing party returned to the Naval Station at 5:10 P.M. They were met by the members of the press and the photographers, and could show only one fish (a 4-pound grouper taken by Commander MacDonald) for their afternoon's efforts.

Dinner this evening was enlivened somewhat by a surprise post-birthday recognition for Mr. Connelly. Unable to determine the correct number of candles that should have been used on the cake, Miss Truman ordered a round number (50). After due embarrassment by the toasts that were offered to him, Mr. Connelly failed sadly to extinguish all the candles with the one puff allowed him.

After dinner (9 P.M.) the President, Mrs. Truman, Miss Truman, Mr. Hassett, Mr. Ross, Mr. Clifford, Mr. Woodward, General Vaughan, Admiral Dennison and Colonel Mara accompanied Mr. Connelly to the Naval Station CPO Club where they were guests at a belated birthday party given for Mr. Connelly by the members of the Press. The program was emceed by Tony Vaccaro and the entertainment included several songs and recitations by Henry Nicholson and three songs by a newcomer to the Secret Service – Pat Boggs. After a bit of persuasion, Mr. Ross offered his rendition of “My Melancholy Baby.” Mr. Connelly received a wide assortment of impractical gifts, each of which he was required to unwrap publicly and acknowledge. All members of the President’s party, except Mr. Connelly, left the CPO Club at 10:20 P.M. and motored back to the Little White House. Mr. Connelly remained and was further feted.

The ladies retired to their quarters at 11:15 P.M.; the President retired at 12:30 A.M.

Sunday, 3 December

The President came downstairs at 7:45 A.M. and left the house at 7:50 A.M. for his morning walk around the Naval Station. He returned at 8:10 A.M. and sat down to breakfast with Mr. Hassett at 8:20 A.M.

Following breakfast, the President moved to his desk in the living room where he worked on official mail until 9:45 A.M.

At 10 A.M. Lieutenant Kullman, courier, departed Key West for Washington, D.C., with official White House mail. Mr. Carl Dixon and Mr. V. P. Mroz (both members of the Secret Service) returned to Washington via today’s mail plane.

The President, Miss Truman, Admiral Dennison, Mr. Woodward, General Vaughan and Colonel Mara left the Little White House at 10:30 A.M. and walked to Truman Beach. They were joined there later by Mr. Hassett and Mr. Ross. Mrs. Truman remained at the Little White house. The President was the only member of the group to go swimming this morning. Several of the others engaged in a spirited round of volleyball. Miss Truman again was on the winning side; her group (Miss Truman, Lieutenant Moore, Mr. Woodward, General Vaughan and Commander Warden) taking two out of three games from a team composed of Mr. Rowley, Mr. Behn, Mr. McCann, Mr. Barron and Colonel Mara.

Mr. Clifford left by plane (Navy R4D, Lieutenant Beare) at 11 A.M. for Miami where he spent the day with friends.

The President left the beach at 12:40 P.M. and motored back to the Little White House.

Lunch was served outdoors, in the north garden.

After lunch, 2:15 P.M., the President retired to his quarters where he rested until 3:50 P.M.

Mr. Joseph H. Short, correspondent for the Baltimore Sun, was admitted to the Naval Hospital, Key West, this afternoon. He had been confined to his room at the LaConcha Hotel since Friday, December 2nd.

At 4 P.M., in a ceremony held in the north garden, the President was made an honorary life member and Past Grand Master of the Grand Lodge of Free and Accepted Masons of Florida. The presentation was made by Mr. Anthony W. Connor, Grand Master of Florida. Mr. Connor said that it was on April 21, 1949, the Grand Lodge of Florida at its annual convention adopted the resolution to make Mr. Truman a life member. The resolution was passed unanimously.

In accepting the honorary life membership in the Grand Lodge, the President told the group of Masons: "This is indeed a highly appreciated honor which you have conferred upon me. It is one that a man seldom – or never – gets. Therefore, I appreciate it the more highly.

"I regret exceedingly that it was not possible for me to attend the dinner invitations which you sent to me for Jacksonville and for Miami, but I had so many calls and invitations as a result of the visit down here, that I had to refuse all of them. Therefore, it was arranged that your Most Worshipful Grand Master and this Committee should come to the Little White House in Key West and present me with this Scroll, which I shall treasure all my life, and which I shall have in a place of honor in my home when I have a chance to have one.

"Thank you very much, Most Worshipful Grandmaster."

The President added that it was his understanding that he and Andrew Jackson were the only Presidents who had ever held the office of Grand Master of a State Lodge.

Among the other Masons present for the ceremony were: Messrs:

Gus J. Dekle, Deputy Grand Master, Perry, Fla.
Cleveland R. Horne, Senior Grand Warden, Tallahassee, Fla.
Perry R. Marsh, Junior Grand Warden, St. Petersburg, Fla.
Spessard L. Holland, Bartow, Fla.
Russell A. Williams, Miami, Fla.
Stafford Caldwell, Tallahassee, Fla.
William Clyde Johnson, Jacksonville, Fla.
George Fish, Jacksonville, Fla.
Roland D. Baldwin, Jacksonville, Fla.
James P. McDermott, Key West, Fla.
Walter R. Gall, Zephyrhills, Fla.
Fred B. Noble, Jacksonville, Fla.
Ernest W. Campbell, Laurel Hill, Fla.
George W. Huff, Grand Secretary, Jacksonville, Fla.
Frank A. Brown, Miami, Fla.

W. W. Trice, Tampa, Fla.
Robert S. Brown, Clearwater, Fla.
Arthur Milan, Jacksonville, Fla.
Curtis Hickson, Tampa, Fla.
Morris E. White, Tampa, Fla.
H. Raymond Wright, Miami, Fla.
James Donn, Miami, Fla.
James L. Mixson, Miami Fla.
Hobart D. Tolhank, Tampa, Fla.
Everett R. Rivas, Key West, Fla.
Ben W. Lanier, Miami, Fla.
Harry Taylor, Miami, Fla.
Fernando Camus, Key West, Fla.
Frank O. Weech, Key West, Fla., and Reverend McEldowney

Senator Holland's son, Mr. Lindsay Holland, although not a Mason, also attended.

Following the Masonic presentation, a delegation of Shriners from the Mahi Temple of Miami presented the President with an honorary life membership in the Mahi Temple of the Shrine. The presentation was made by Potentate B. H. Blakey of Miami. Other Shriners present included: Messrs.

Russell Houston, Miami, Fla.
Ray Williams, Miami, Fla.
Robin Mulloy, Miami, Fla.
Robert C. Booth, Miami, Fla.
Isador Apolin, Miami, Fla.
Frank Brown, Miami, Fla.
Robert Floyd, Miami, Fla.
Gerald H. Adams, Key West, Fla.
Everett V. Kinsman, Key West, Fla.
A. Maitland Adams, Key West, Fla.
Dr. R. H. Baldwin, Miami, Fla.

At 4:25 P.M., the visiting Masons and Shriners departed and the President returned to the Little White House.

Mrs. Truman, accompanied by Admiral Dennison, left the Little White House at 4:30 P.M. and motored to Key West where she did some Christmas shopping. They returned at 5:15 P.M.

General Landry telephoned in at 5 P.M. He called in from Shaw Air Force Base, Sumter, S. C., to report that the jet plane he was riding to Key West had developed fuel pump trouble and that it had been necessary for him to put down there for repairs. He advised that he would shift to a transport type aircraft and resume his journey to Key West.

Mr. Carter Barron was a guest at dinner this evening.

At 8:10 P.M., the President, Mrs. Truman, Miss Truman, Mr. Connelly, Mr. Ross, General Vaughan, Mr. Woodward, Colonel Mara, Mr. Barron left the Little White House and motored to the Naval Station theater where they witnessed a special showing of the motion picture "Battleground." By arrangement between Mr. Barron and the Naval Station authorities, open house was held at the theater and the house was filled to capacity.

The movie party returned to the Little White House at 10:15 P.M.

General Landry arrived at the Little White House at 10:25 P.M. and joined the President's party. He was berthed in the WILLIAMSBURG.

At 10:30 P.M. Miss Truman, accompanied by Lieutenant Moore, Mr. Connelly and Mr. Barron left the Little White House and motored to the Commissioned Officers Club at Fort Taylor where they attended the regular Saturday evening dance given by the Club. They were returned to the House at 1:30 A.M.

The President came downstairs at 7 A.M. He did not take a walk this morning. All members of the party joined him at breakfast, which was served at 7:20 A.M. Mr. Nash and Mr. Andrews were breakfast guests of the President's mess

During the breakfast all party baggage was moved off to Boca Chica. At 8:10 A.M. the President, all members of his party and Captain Adell left the Little White House by motor for Boca Chica.

The naval station streets from the Little White House to the Caroline Street gate again were lined with enlisted personnel dressed in their white uniforms. Full military honors were rendered as the President passed through the gate; he did not leave his car to inspect the guard. His personal flag was lowered as he left the naval station. The motorcade, led by Captain Clifton and four state patrolmen, went north on Caroline Street, east on Simonton Street, and then north on Truman Avenue. There were few people on the streets to witness the President's departure.

The President arrived at the Naval Air Station, Boca Chica at 8:30 A.M. Here again the station personnel were at "man-the-rail" stations. The President disembarked and said goodbye to the group of civic officials and senior officers on hand to see him off. He told them that he had had a fine vacation at Key West, and had at the same time accomplished a great deal of work – reading a backlog of official papers and preparing messages to Congress. He then went aboard the INDEPENDENCE and at 8:43 A.M. the INDEPENDENCE was airborne for Washington. Accompanying the President were: Mr. Steelman, Mr. Hassett, Mr. Connelly, Mr. Ross, Mr. Clifford, General Vaughan, Admiral Dennison, General Landry, General Graham, Mr. Niles, Mr. Stowe, Mr. Eley, and Mr. Hopkins, members of his party; and Mr. Rowley, Mr. Nicholson, Mr. Romagna, and Chief Steward Prettyman.
